

Title: Burn the Pages

(Verse 1)

You think you know me, but you've never seen,
The walls I built up, the quiet in between.
With every smile, I was hiding the scars,
You played your games while I reached for the stars.

(Pre-Chorus)

Now I'm done with your lies and your perfect disguise,
I won't be your trophy, I'm cutting those ties.

(Chorus)

So watch me burn the pages, let the ashes fly,
I'm rewriting my story, I'll scream and I'll cry.
No more playing nice, I'll ignite the night,
With a heart full of fire, I'll stand up and fight.
You thought you could break me, but here's the truth:
I'm rising from the ashes, with a hell of a poise.